A Selous River Camp safari is different: intimate, unhurried and wild

A safari with Selous River Camp is unusual. We think it's important to make the most of both your time and your park entry permit; and our safaris, in particular our game drives, are tailored to your interests, slow-paced and authentic ... off-the-beaten-track wilderness where you can luxuriate in, for example, taking the time to switch off your car engine and sit by yourselves, quietly watching lion cubs play. An exclusivity which is a world away from more commercial, less guest-experience-based safari tours.

Our full day game drives leave camp earlier in the morning than many other camps. We plan everything with you in mind and don't want you to miss out on this magical time when the wildlife are most active, the temperature is mild, and the light is beautiful. During the hottest part of the day, when the wildlife is most scarce, you'll have the opportunity to indulge in a lazy lunch, sitting comfortably under the shade of a large tree, watching the dramatic landscape reveal its secrets and wildlife stroll by.

The Nyerere National Park, part of the legendary Selous Game Reserve, is an elemental one-of-a-kind wild place - vast, unspoilt Africa where, for a while, you can truly feel like the only people in the world. Soaking up the unique atmosphere, symphony of sounds and earthy smells of the wilderness is as much a part of the experience as exploring its winding tracks on the hunt for wildlife, and that takes time. This is safari done the way it should be.
